- Make sure you have all you need for your exam, Example
- Maths, Calculator, Log tables, pencils pens ruler small set squares etc
- Graphics, Tech Graphics set
- Sharing of equipment will not be permitted.
- Before the exam you may have time to study so bring the book or study notes for the exam you have with you to the exam centre.

- When you get the paper; please read the questions fully before you start and also look out for instructions like
 - Answer either A or B and
 - Answer one of the following 3 questions

- Please do not try and cheat teachers are looking out for this, and it won't look good for you if your report reads Found Cheating in the Mock exams
- Put all notes and papers away before the exam begins.
- You may bring a small bottle of water with you but bathroom breaks will be limited to avoid disruption to the exams.
- Give the exam your best effort and make sure to read over your answers.
- Enter an answer in every section even if you're not sure, the worst you can be is wrong, but you are in with a chance of some marks, if you don't enter an answer you are definitely wrong

*What do I do if I don't have an exam?
Here are the answers*

- The timetable starts with the majority of students having an exam in the morning eg Maths English Irish. Some of the optional subjects are in the afternoon and may not involve all students.
- If you have an exam in the morning, you come in for it as per the timetable. if you don't have an exam in the morning, you can come in and study or you can stay at home and study if you prefer (with your parents' permission) A location will be provided for you to study or you can re-join your class and study while other students sit an exam.

If you don't have an exam in the afternoon, you are free to go home and study from home if you prefer (with parents' permission), otherwise you stay in school and study will be provided for you.

I get a bus to school.

In this case you have no option other than to study in school and get the bus at the end of the day as usual.

Good luck with your exams, if you are prepared you have nothing to worry about.
